Great Oil Fire Rages In Texas

Million Dollars Worth Is in Course of Construction Following Thunderstorm.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
—(HOUSTON, Nov. 13.—The most disastrous fire in the 21 years' history of the Gulf coast oil fields was raging today in the Humble section 11 miles northeast of here. Three quarters of a million barrels of oil were burning and with a stiff wind in the north fully two million were in danger. During the storm yesterday a bolt of lightning struck tank No. 21 of the Gulf Pipe Line Co. and a column of flame shot skyward 200 feet followed by a cloud of smoke and a roar which shook Humble.

Tank No. 22 caught fire this morning and is burning fiercely. The flames threatened tanks 11 and 5 of the company and tanks on the opposite side of the road. It was thought likely that tank No. 21 would burn until tomorrow and three days longer. Tank No. 21 is the largest earthen tank in Texas. The value of 750,000 barrels now burning is around $1,000,000.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

When a warrior desires the wife of another member, he said, he waits in ambush and kills the husband and takes possession. He asserted the practice regarded the killing as a matter of course.

Girls Have Narrow Escape In Accident

Car Turns Over Near Reidsville and Miss Mary Roach and Four Girl Friends Are Injured.

Miss Mary Roach of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Roach with four girl companions all from Reidsville, had narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon at four o'clock when a five passenger Studebaker car which Miss Roach was driving turned over about four miles beyond Reidsville. In the accident happily no more serious injury was sustained than bruises and more or less severe nervous reaction from the accident.

Those injured, besides Miss Roach were Miss Virginia Whitsett and Miss Cecilia Scott, probably the worst hurt and suffering chiefly from bruises about the back and arms. Miss Constance Gwaltney and Miss Alva Stacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Roach who were at Reidsville for the day yesterday returned last night with their daughter, who was reported today as suffering some discomfort from the rude shock of the accident.

According to Mr. Roach, the girls, ranging in ages from 12 to 16, were on their way to a party at the home of a friend. They were going round what is known in Reidsville as the loop. One stretch of the road is narrow, steep and badly rounded and is difficult for an expert driver to keep the car on the crown of the road. Presumably the car got into deep sand and Miss Roach, who is a good driver, in trying to bring the car back into the road, cut her wheel as an angle as to send the car shooting over to the other side where it landed in a ditch, turned over completely, coming to a standstill on its wheels once more. All of the girls in the car were flung out. A party of 11, M. I. cadets who came along a few moments later and who had seen the cloud of dust occasioned by the accident, came to the scene and found the car on its side. The girls were taken to the office of a Reidsville doctor. One of the girls remained unconscious for some time. The physician removed the injured to the American Tobacco Company where an X-ray apparatus is maintained. It was there discovered that there had been no bones broken. The girls were then taken to their home. Mr. Roach said that the car was badly damaged, the top and wind shield being broken off also the steering pillar.

Child Has Close Call With Fire

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Clifton, of Newton, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when fire was discovered in the house. It is understood that the child went into a clothes-closet and shut the door and while playing with matches set fire to the clothes in the closet. Members of the household quickly put out the fire which had begun to eat through the ceiling and the child was rescued. The child was taken to a hospital where it is being treated by a physician and is expected to be none the worse for the mishap.

C., told his congregation from the pulpit yesterday that he has not yet made up his mind on the matter. He said that no personal reason was involved in his consideration of the offer but indicated that he was awaiting some spiritual prompting before reaching any decision. It is understood that Dr. DuBose has received numerous tokens of sincere affection from his congregation, all of these expressing the hope that he will be able to remain here.

It was found to be under a lounge and probably was caused by a piece of smoldering wood being removed from the grate and laid on this floor lighting a pile of woodwork. The damage was negligible.

Injured Lad Is Taken To Richmond

Hodges Motley, a twelve-year-old boy, who was seriously injured a few days ago when he fell thirty feet from a tree in the grounds of Cabell street, is being taken to Richmond today for the purpose of consulting bone specialists. While the fractures of both arms are mending well and the severe injury to his hip and nose is healing, the fracture of his thigh is more serious matter and if the bone mends as it is set at present it will result in one of his legs being shorter than the other. A fragment of the bone was splintered and it will be necessary for surgeons to undertake a somewhat difficult operation of bone-grafting in the hope that the youngster's leg may become normal.

The boy's nose and upper lip were partially torn from his face, it being evident that in falling he struck a limb.

Thousand Dead In Quake Catastrophe

Speeding Fugitives Make Good Escape

Police Officer R. A. Adams had a lively thirty minutes on Sunday afternoon chasing two men in a Ford touring car believed to have been automobile thieves or in any event anxious to evade the hand of the law. The men passed Adams seated in his Buick car shortly after three o'clock at the Northside fire station. The car had no license plate on it and seeing the officer, both men exchanged nervous glances and after turning to look apprehensively behind them, whirled down the North Main street hill. Officer Adams had signalled the men to stop because of the obvious violation of the automobile law by having no tag. The men held their lead and because of the density of motor traffic at that time neither fugitive nor pursuer could make any move. Adams stopped his car and waited until the two men in the car still pursued by Adams went out West Main street, according to Adams at about forty miles an hour. Before the city limits had been reached, the fugitives had had their two passing cars glancing blows, crumpling fenders and almost sending the Ford to the sidewalk. At Mount Vernon church, Adams reports, he caught up with the car, the two men stopping. As Adams stopped his car to get out the driver of the Ford suddenly gave the machine the gas and whirled round out towards Schofield gaining on the officer who had to get back in his machine and start it. Between Schofield and Stokeland, two other automobiles were hit and a fifth was driven off the road through the reckless driving of the fugitives. Finally near Stokeland, the speeding car hit a farm wagon. Adams said that four people in the wagon were thrown over the horses, a child being injured. This sent the fugitive Ford into the gulley and Adams, thinking that his prey was this time secure, drove on. He was surprised to find two wheels in the gulley and two out. The driver managed to get the machine into the clear road. Adams pursued the driver until they succeeded through his own will and men's hands in which Adams was unwilling to undertake in view of the heavy traffic in losing themselves in North Carolina.

Pig Woman's Story Has Been Refuted

Woman Comes Forward and Says Mrs. Gibson Was Not on Phillips Farm on Murder Night.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW BRUNSWICK, Nov. 12.—A physical encounter between witnesses in the Hall-Mills murder mystery was the latest development today, this being between Mrs. Gibson, who raised pigs and says she saw the murderer, and Nellie L. Russell, a negress who keeps cows and says Mrs. Gibson could not have seen the murderer because she was at her house at the time. The Russell woman admitted the fight but said she was not the aggressor adding she harbored no ill will to Mrs. Gibson. The negress declined to discuss the affidavit made public yesterday by counsel for the rector's widow in which she said she was positive Mrs. Gibson was at home.

She said she had been warned not to talk about the case to reporters. Patrick Thomson, who lives in the vicinity and Lewis Sawyer who boards with him declared today that the negress told them her story a week ago. Both admitted they had paid no attention to it at the time.

John Sylvester, a dairy farmer also said the woman had told her story recently and that he had advised her to tell the prosecutor.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 12.—An affidavit refuting the story of Mrs. Gibson, farmer, of what she saw on the Phillips farm on the night of September 14 last, when the Rev. Edward William Hall and Eleanor Reinhardt Mills were murdered, has been obtained from a neighbor of Mrs. Gibson and given to the authorities, counsel for the rector's widow announced tonight.

Deputy Attorney-General Mott, appointed special prosecutor by Governor Edwards to investigate the crime, was not in New Brunswick today, and no official announcement of the receipt of the affidavit which was obtained by Timothy Pfeiffer, Mrs. Hall's attorney, has been made.

The affidavit is signed by Mrs. Nellie L. Russell, whose home is near that of the Hall-Mills murder witness. It sets forth that on the night of September 14, during the time that Mrs. Gibson said in her statement to the authorities that she was near the scene of the shooting, she was at the home of Mrs. Russell.

"Mr. Pfeiffer said the affidavit had been obtained after Mrs. Russell had been told by Mrs. Gibson that she had seen a man on the Phillips farm on the night of September 14, during the time that Mrs. Gibson said in her statement to the authorities that she was near the scene of the shooting, she was at the home of Mrs. Russell.

Mott was in conference in Newark with other officials. It was learned, the grand jury. It was the intention of the officials it had been reported to ask for indictments against the woman and two men named in Mrs. Gibson's statement.

The little red box-like house, located on the corner of Main and North Union streets, from which traffic is directed from four directions, was almost demolished yesterday afternoon about 6:30 o'clock when a traffic box, turning it over into the street. It presented a sad spectacle today.

Both machines were approaching Main street from North Union. Duncan, driving a Ford touring car, stopped for a machine, being up Main street to pass. Edwards was behind Duncan, driving a Ford coupe, the driver attempted to swerve around Duncan and in doing so, struck his machine, causing it to crash into the traffic box. A number of repairs will have to be made before the box can again be used by traffic officers. Traffic officers, Town and M. C. ## Neighbors Were Astonished At Change In Her

"I had lost nearly all faith in medicine, but I am thankful a thousand times over that I believed in Tanlac strong enough to try it," recently said Mrs. Martha Baker, 508 East Sixth St., Astoria, N. C.

"My daughter thinks I might not be here now if I had not used Tanlac, and no doubt she is right, for I was feeling pretty fast. The lightest kind of food hurt me and many times I could not retain anything I would eat. I was also fearfully nervous, could not sleep, and got up mornings completely worn out.

"After I got Tanlac I improved so rapidly that my neighbors were astonished and wanted to know what I was doing for myself. I am just like a new person now and I know at least a dozen people who have taken Tanlac, and get well on account of what it did for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—adv.

WHOA!

YOU can't talk to a car the way you do to a person. It won't accept orders from you unless the engine and the brake and steering gears have been properly cared for. Abuse ruins more cars than use. The Public's Interest In Telephone Earnings

The public is directly interested in the quality of service furnished by this Company and what it pays for such service.

It follows then that the public is concerned in the Company's earnings, because if the earnings are inadequate, the service cannot be maintained at a high standard. On the other hand, if earnings are excessive, the public is entitled to lower rates.

The aim of this Company has always been to charge rates that will yield a fair but not excessive return on the investment. This is necessary to attract the new capital required to keep step with the growth and progress of the community. There have been times when our income has not been sufficient to meet operating expenses. Such was the case during and after the World War.

When we were forced finally to seek relief through increased rates, we did not ask the State Corporation Commission to approve rates high enough to yield a fair return. We hoped that the future would bring reductions in costs and that increased efficiency would be obtained. This, together with moderate increases in rates, we hoped would result within a reasonable time in providing sufficient revenues to yield a fair return.

The Commission, in authorizing our rate increases, stated that the new rates would yield a return of about 3.37% on the value of our property.

During the two years that have passed since these rates were established, we have directed every energy toward furnishing the best possible service and toward the effecting of economies so that our investors might be afforded the return to which they are entitled.

In the first nine months of this year, our earnings have been at the rate of 5.75% a year on our investment in Virginia.

The return is still inadequate, being less than the legal interest rate. But we have made progress and this gives us confidence that with our present rates we can, by constantly increasing efficiency and persistent economy, earn a return sufficient to attract the new capital necessary to permit us to expand our system.

Brilliant Wedding at First Baptist

Not in years has the First Baptist church edifice sheltered a larger or more brilliant congregation than that which assembled last Saturday evening to witness the wedding of Miss Margaret Brown Conway, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Powhatan Fitzhugh Conway, of Danville, and Warner Moore, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Moore of Richmond, Va., representatives of two long prominent Virginia families. The wedding itself was in all its appointments and in the beautiful environment and which the faithful were taken one of the most beautiful and notable which has occurred in this city for years. The celebrants were Dr. Joseph H. Hicks, long-time pastor and intimate friend of the bride's family, who came from Baltimore to participate in this happy event, and the Rev. John G. Scott, of Richmond, an old friend of the bride's family and a clergyman of the Episcopal church.

The sacred edifice had been beautifully and appropriately decorated and adapted for the wedding, and the interior presented a charming setting for the brilliant, colorful scene. The pulpit and rostrum had been extended sufficiently to enable the entire wedding party to assume their positions thereon before the two clergymen, the ascent to this being by means of a stairway immediately in front of the terminus of the central aisle. This spacious rostrum was draped in white while in the background was a concave screen fashioned of greenery and flecked with yellow chrysanthemums, rising to the height of the organ pipes. Great baskets of chrysanthemums had been placed on either side of the foreground. Three basket candelabra from which wax tapers cast a soft light, had been arranged on the rostrum—one in rear of the clergymen and the other two to right and left of the kneeling cushions prepared for the bride and bridegroom during the prayer. The window spaces of the church were banked with baskets of chrysanthemums, while at intervals along the center aisle by which the bride cortege advanced to the altar were erected small posts draped with the trailing smilax and upholding big basket-like vases overflowing with yellow and white chrysanthemums alternately, while graceful festoons of yellow and white tulle extended from the tops of these posts so as to connect them continuously from door to altar. This effective decoration extended down both sides of the main aisle which had been carpeted with white for the occasion. While unique and striking, the general decorative effect was harmonious and in excellent artistic taste.

While the guests were assembling in the church to witness the ceremony the following delightful musical program was rendered:

Violin solo, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," Richard Penn.
Song, "A Dawning," J. Foster Barnes, of Greensboro, N. C.
Violin solo, "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," Richard Penn.
Soprano solo, "Louise," Mrs. Jos. Taylor, Jr., Greensboro, N. C.
Violin solo, "O Sole Mio," Richard Penn.

During the ensuing wedding service the pipe organ and violin blended beautifully and softly in the appropriate melody, "O Be Joyful, Ye All Those Endearing Young Charms."

INDIGESTION RELIEVED WITH NEW CORDIAL

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart burn, sour stomach, griping pains, dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even sick, nervous headaches are directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs and can now be quickly relieved with new cordial called "Anti-Ferment," originated by a druggist and recommended by physicians.

The food sores before it is fully digested, thus upsetting the solution of toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Ferment. Anti-Ferment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, cleanses and soothes the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices, giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Ferment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. It will improve your appetite, give you restful sleep and make you feel better than you ever felt in your life.—adv.

Mrs. W. W. Ayres, one of the most brilliant performers on the pipe organ in this city, played the processional and recessional marches, choosing the familiar melody of Mendelssohn for the entry of the bride, and suddenly changing this to the joyous strains of the march from "Lohengrin" as the bride appeared and began the descent of the aisle.

The order of entry of the wedding party was as follows: Misses Lucy Lee Fitzgerald and Miss Elizabeth Penn, of Danville, bridesmaids, followed by Robert L. Brown, of Richmond, Va., and James T. Hamlin, of Danville, groomsmen; Miss Katharine Stokes, of Greensboro, N. J., and Miss Corinne Conway, of this city, followed by A. H. Sutton, of Richmond, and Coleman B. Conway, of Danville, groomsmen; Mrs. Charles A. Gregory, of Richmond, and Miss Mary Spencer, of Danville, followed by T. De Witt Adams, of Richmond, and Curtis H. Dodson, of Danville, Miss Margaret Gold, of Greensboro, and Miss Barbara James, of Danville, bridesmaids; the ushers, who did not, however, participate in the bridal procession, were Messrs. A. A. Booth, Archibald D. Keen, E. Walton Brown and J. E. Perkins, of Richmond, and Henry C. Boatwright, Henry C. Swanson and Gustave R. Dudley, all of this city. Edwin J. "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"
—Got So Weak She Had To Go To Bed—But Read Her Story

Oswatimie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while, and then one year or so ago I had a tickle in my throat."

"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed."

"I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up."

"I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulated a bill poster. One day he came to me and said: 'I read in a paper a bottle of Cardui. They laughed and said I wouldn't take it. But I did. I began with a tablespoonful every two hours.'"

"I got all other medicines and took Cardui faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

Called It Off

The "Keep Posted Class" will meet as usual on Tuesday evening. This class is open to everyone, especially to those who are interested in the current events of the day.

The story of the Y. W. C. A. in pictures. The Y. W. C. A. picture to have been shown at the Broadway theatre on Thursday evening last, will be shown instead on Sunday afternoon at half past three o'clock at the Broadway Theatre. It was discovered at late an hour on Thursday to advise those who had bought tickets of the change in the plan for showing the picture. The film is an unusually interesting one and in picture form the many activities of the Y. W. C. A., not only in our country but in that of foreign lands. There are girls of every clime pictured on the screen, and the story is a most interesting one. It tells how far-reaching is the influence of the blue triangle. A professional of Y. W. C. A. girls will march from the Association room singing, "Follow the Green," the Y. W. C. A. hymn and for a period of fifteen or twenty minutes there will be group singing of familiar hymns, led by Mr. Douglas of the Schoolfield Y. M. C. A. The showing of the picture will cover a period of an hour and a quarter. A formal invitation is extended to all of Danville to see this very interesting picture. Tickets are not required for admission nor will there be any fee. A city-wide interest is all that is asked.

Meeting of Board of Directors.
The regular meeting of the Board of Directors was postponed from Saturday, the eleventh, to November the eighteenth, because the many events planned for Armistice Day made it impossible for only a limited number of members to attend the meeting.

Girls' Work Department.
A party of teen age girls given on Tuesday afternoon, brought together a number of school girls, all eager to join the Girl Reserve program. The Girl Reserve program is one planned by the National Y. W. C. A. for girls of teen age and aims to develop all sides of the younger girls so that they might find and give the best in their lives. Miss Emma Anderson, through Y. W. C. A. contact with the Girl Reserve program at Sweet Briar conference last summer, and through thought and study of the program is quite familiar with the work for the Y. W. C. A. Miss Anderson will be at the Association rooms on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday each afternoon from three until six o'clock to organize groups Girl Reserves and to advise with leaders of groups. The places where the program has been used and found to have a wonderfully stimulating influence on the teen age girl. Any girl from twelve to eighteen years of age may enter the Girl Reserve ranks. A girl is eager to have Danville add its quota to the 112,000 Girl Reserves now scattered over the country.

Mrs. D. J. Hinchliffe, General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., is glad to let any of the schools or Sunday schools, or churches, to explain more fully the Girl Reserve program and the message it has for girls. Girls from ten to twelve years of age will be organized into groups with a different name.

Industrial and Educational Activities.
Each Thursday night finds a group of alert young business girls to discuss plans for the development of the club so that it might be in the company. At a recent session of officers, Miss Gertrude Adams was elected president of the club.

The Friday evening Industrial club is growing in numbers and interest each week. Mrs. Virginia Lewis energetic president, together with the club, is planning a campaign to increase the membership in the club. The girls meet each week just after their busy day for a club supper planned by Miss Mary Bullington, the secretary of the department.

The Nurses club meets on Saturday evenings. These girls are keenly interested in the athletic side of the Y. W. C. A. program, especially basketball, and there is promise of a strong team developing from this group of girls.

The Mandolin club is now fully organized and will meet on Friday evenings. If there are others who would like to join the club, they may do so before Friday of next week. It is not necessary to be a member of the Y. W. C. A. or a club girl to become a member of the Mandolin club.

Roller skating night has been changed from Thursday night to Tuesday night. All girls are invited to enjoy the wholesome sport. Bring your own skates or borrow them from some one else. The Y. W. C. A. has a roller have a few pairs of skates to loan. Remember, Tuesday evening is a more restful and refreshing than you realize.

World Fellowship Program.
The World Fellowship Supper and Program, "Who Can This Spirit Be," is to be given on Thursday evening of this week instead of Tuesday as at first advertised. The supper is to be a very good one and the program a very colorful and interesting one, given by Y. W. C. A. girls and coached by Miss Bullington. Those who do not desire to come to the supper will be very welcome to see the program at half past seven o'clock. The program is to emphasize the work done by the Y. W. C. A. in foreign lands.

DEATH THIS MORNING
OF B. B. WOODWARD HERE

Announcement of the death of B. B. Woodward, only son of Mrs. B. W. Woodward, which occurred at the family residence on Broad street shortly before two o'clock this (Sunday) morning, will bring sorrow to many. Mr. Woodward came to Danville his old home, two months ago from Middleburg, Ky., and has been at his mother's residence since arriving here. He is survived by his wife, also by his sisters, the Misses Woodward, of this city.

Mrs. F. O. Lumpkin, Virginia avenue, is visiting friends in Roanoke.

At the eleventh hour, the wedding of Brenda Bond, Boston society girl now on the New York stage, to Jack Payne Smith, a Back Bay clubman, was cancelled. "Mutual agreement," was Miss Bond's only explanation.

STIMULATE USE OF MEAT IS AIM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(By The Associated Press).—The government has decided to come to the aid of the live stock and see what it can do to stimulate the use of meat. A decrease of more than 20 pounds per person in the amount of meat eaten a year in the United States is shown by latest statistics.

"During the war, increase of live-stock production and conservation in meat consumption were urged with a most effective artillery of propaganda," the department of agriculture said today. "We are now producing heavily with continued inhibition of consumption, particularly by reason of prices."

"Many persons still hold to the belief, which was largely the outgrowth of unfair and misguided propaganda that meat is not healthy. Medical science has proved over and over that a large number of ills once charged against meat eating are due to the infection of teeth, tonsils and other organs."

MISS CARRIE JACOBS HONORED

Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented Miss Jacobs. After an hour's merriment of progressive games, the guests were invited into the appointed dining room, where a delicious salad course was served.

WOMEN OF AMERICA IN REVOLT!
Defy Dictates Of Paris and Set Up Own Skirt Lines

The Battle of the Skirt, in pictures. Paris says, "Down to the Ankle," as shown on the right, but the women of America are in revolt. The extremists, of the flapper variety, cry "Up to the Knees," at the left, while American women have established their own fashion, seven inches from the ground, center.

Rebellion is rampant in America! America's women have revolted against Paris fashion dictates.

And in casting off their bondage to the whims of the French modiste, American women are creating distinctly American fashions.

These facts were obtained in a national survey made today by NEA Service for The Bee.

Length of skirts caused it all. The long period of "freedom of the knees" was decreed ended by Paris some time ago.

Furthermore, this long skirt renaissance was to be no halfway measure, declared the French fashion czars. "Clear to the ground," read the ukase.

The word was broadcasted throughout America. The modistes began designing them along "stream-line" specifications. The department stores put the long skirt dresses and suits on display everywhere and began to stock up for the usual fall rush.

But the rush failed to materialize, today's survey shows.

Used to the comfort of free motion allowed by the short skirts, American women, in the main, have refused to don the clinging long-skirted Parisian creations.

A few bought them. Most women didn't. Furthermore, they say they won't. Paris or no Paris.

"The flapper type, knowing it will pass out of favor with the lengthening of the dresses, is certain to fight tooth and nail against any move against the short skirt," declared one fashion expert a few months ago.

Many Defy Paris Dictators.

That expert spoke advisedly. Not only is the outspoken flapper aroused to action, but practically all of the women, in the main, have refused to don the clinging long-skirted Parisian creations.

Professional women and women health authorities in the United States are supporting her in refusing to sanction France's whims.

All over the land signs of insurrection.

"Preposterous," "just plain ugly," "unhealthy," "silly"—are the declarations of American women concerning the French skirts.

The final result is that at the period of the year when the women are usually garbed in accordance with the newest mode, shops are still stocked with extremely long gowns, and women are wearing just what length of skirt they please—and most of them are short.

Out of this chaos, however, comes America's first constructive individual style movement. For American womanhood isn't going to let Parisian attelers foist ludicrous dresses on her, neither, apparently, is she going to let the youthful flapper be the arbiter of the apparel question.

Seven inches from the ground—that is the skirt length the American de facto style dictators have decreed. That's a big come-down from the demands of the flapper, but the result is a skirt that not only modifies the French styles but retains the freedom of movement that was one of the greatest advantages of the abbreviated dresses.

War Raging on West Coast.

The most active warfare over the French skirt is raging in Los Angeles. Its beaches are bringing flocks of the fashionable and wealthy in for the winter. They favor the shorter skirts.

Between these and the movie stars—who must keep ahead of the styles—the long-short skirt controversy is bound to meet an acid test this winter.

Short dresses and their appropriate complement gives a semblance of youth, and aging women will be loath to surrender this," declares one California modiste who knows human nature.

New York, however, sees a pre-dominance of long skirts in the smart restaurants, at the new revues and wherever fashionable people gather.

They range from ankle length to five inches from the ground. This, say Gotham's designers, is the reaction from the short skirt, and since it has been so well received by New York, they believe the rest of the country will follow suit.

Parisian importers in New York bring first news of French modistes' surrender to Yankee resentment. Already, shorter skirts are being shown on the Paris boulevards, and the importers whisper confidentially that the long skirt is a temporary matter, to be replaced soon by a conservative length. This is considered a victory for American womanhood.

Generally throughout the south, the long skirt has been accepted as the mode—temporarily. But not, however, without open expressions of opinion that the seven-inch skirt would be more welcome.

She Condemns Long Skirt.

"The old skirt which swept germs from the ground certainly should be a horror of the past," says Mrs. P. J. Fredericks, president of the New Orleans Federation of Clubs. "However, skirts should be longer than many women wore during the last year."

Staid New England, seat of America's first revolt, is not taking kindly to orders from a foreign dictator this year either. Boston's prominent women agree with designers that the day of the extremely short skirt is past, but they refuse to accept the Parisian clinging gown as its successor.

The new gowns, usually made to reveal rather than to hide, "be far more shocking to morals than the short skirts," declares Miss Amelia Burnham, prominent in Boston's Professional Women's Club. She condemns the French fashion also on the grounds of lack of hygiene and personal comfort, and favors a skirt not less than seven and one-half inches—and possibly a foot—from the ground.

Washington's social circles have accepted the long dress for afternoon and evening wear and slightly shorter skirt length for street. But the thousands of young women in governmental employ ignore the decree and Washington looks for the return of the short skirt in the spring.

Philipp Flappers Want 'Em Long.

Philadelphia flapper now want them as long as they wanted them short a while ago, say modistes there. These older women, however, are in open revolt. They do not want the knee-length dresses, but they don't accept the kind that drag on the ground.

St. Paul women are taking kindly to the skirt lengthened to seven inches from the floor.

But they have issued a warning that any attempt to make them wear street "peepers" will bring a revolt. They insist that this is the era of dress according to individual ideas.

Kansas City, Indianapolis, Ind., Helen, Mont., Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., and San Francisco are other cities reporting revolt against the long clinging Parisian skirts.

Down in Atlanta, Ga., the return of the long skirt has been hailed with delight. Many take it there as "the end of the jazz period in American history."

The lowering of skirts to the seven-inch height also is declared by some economic students to be a sign that the American woman, having won her long fight for the ballot, is now determined to her own thinking regarding clothes.

Labor Vote Is
Blamed by G. O. P.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 11.—Ninth district Republicans are explaining the defeat of Senator J. H. Haxinger, the Republican candidate for congress, by saying that organized labor was responsible for the change from Republican to a Democratic congressman, holding that the "Daugherty rule" was aimed at them, and that they took that occasion to visit their punishment on the party. Just how far that may have affected the result is debatable, seeing that the mining interests in that section, perhaps the greatest, is not composed of union men, the mines being open.

There is a very large cattle and farming element in the Ninth district, but they have been supporting Congressman Stamp for years. The Democrats declare that it was their organization that turned the trick, they having their votes registered and on the books when the time came for closing the lists, and the Republicans were not so fortunate. However, in Bristol, where there is a considerable railroad vote, the majority for George C. Peery was the largest ever given a congressional candidate.

Auto Thief at Large

Several weeks ago the officers picked up Larry Lanier, of North Carolina, who had escaped from the road force in that State after being sentenced to serve ten years. He was returned to the officers and was taken back to complete his term. Officers here have been informed that he has again made his getaway and is at large, and they have been instructed to look out for him. He is considered one of the smoothest operators in the country, is said to be an expert mechanic and can handle any car that has been made. Latest models of wheels to prevent operation of cars has been solved by him, it is said, but he specializes in cars that are of a popular make and are easy to hide.

One of his partners, a man named Livelyell, has been indicted in the courts here on eleven charges of car stealing, and will be tried at this time of the court. The judges are handing out four to ten years for men arrested and proven guilty of stealing cars. Police activity has reduced the number of local thefts in the last few weeks.

Wonderful College Growth

William and Mary College, at Williamsburg, one of the oldest institutions in the country, has taken on new life under the administration of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler. A few years ago there was an attendance of 200 or less, but in five years this has been jumped to 850, with more applications for matriculation than can be considered. Dr. Chandler and the board of trustees have arranged for the erection of a building to house 3 new students and it is hoped to have this ready by the opening of the next session. The college is co-educational and there are very many young women there. It is believed that when the new dormitory is completed there will be room for 1,000 students.

Business Is Improving.

Merchants of this city say that business in every line is improving, this applying to both wholesale and retail men. The wholesale men say that the buying by the country merchants is better than for a year, and they are buying merchandise of good quality. The retailers of Richmond are apparently busier than they have been for months, and with business good in all manufacturing lines the people have money and are spending it freely. The local trade is adhering to fine goods for the greater part, with the clothing trade leading. Collections are improving since crops began to move. One of the signs that better times are here is the increase in the sale of automobiles.

May End Tag Days.

The granting of a charter to the Danville Community Chest may be the end of the tag days that have been in vogue here for the last several years, as the belief is that a similar organization will be formed here. The Danville movement is a consolidation of all the various charity organizations into one management and ## concentration of all efforts. There is one appeal to the public for aid and that is distributed through one agency, all of the organizations interested having representation on the one board of directors. This prevents the "repeaters" from appealing to the various organizations and being long supported by receiving aid from the various sources.

Steamships Doing Well.

About two years ago there established a line of steamers between this city and New York, to Norfolk and Newport News, following the abandonment of the service so long given by the Old Dominion line. These vessels are catering to freight traffic for the present, and they have built up a trade that is growing by leaps and bounds. For a year or so they asked to make expenses, and then it was discovered that the rates were considerably lower than by rail and the commitments were ordered by local shippers. The Old Dominion line gave a service that was popular and which enabled merchants and manufacturers to transport their wares at low cost, but the railroads acquired control of the steamers and they were withdrawn from service. Norfolk, too, has organized a fleet of steamships that ply between that city and New York and it transporting both freight and passengers and is being liberally supported.

Scottish Rite Reunion.

Monday week there is to be here the fall reunion of the Scottish Rite Masons, at which time a large class of candidates will be advanced to the fourth degree, beginning with the third degree. The reunion will last four days and nights, the several degrees being conferred in the new temple, and each evening there will be a banquet. For the initiates and the members of the craft. It is expected that Governor Grand Commander Cowles will be able to come here from Washington to attend the ceremonies.

CANDLER SAYS HE'S LONESOME

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Virginia today paid fitting tribute to those of her sons who fought and died in the great war when, decked with the flags of the nations and "with humble and contrite heart," she bowed her proud head in grief for those who fell and breathed a prayer for those who live.

True to the best traditions of a state of gallant warriors and stalwart patriots, the Old Dominion, mother of Washington and Lee and Jackson, worshipped today at the shrine of her younger heroes and bent the knee at the altar of ancient sacrifice. For she has not forgotten and the spectacle of her tribute on the fourth anniversary of Armistice Day is proof that she will not forget.

The tribute of the state was paid at the capital while throughout the Old Dominion communities joined hands and hearts in remembrance of event and in honor to its heroes. Hardly a town or city in Virginia failed to stage a public demonstration in celebration of the day, which marked the end of the war and the full tide of victory for allied arms.

The capital turned out en masse, and, to the inspiring notes of martial airs, trod the earth which has always resounded with the tramp of conquerors. Old wounds were reopened and from them flowed new streams of anguish—the anguish of supreme sacrifice, in lives crushed and bleeding by the sorrow of war.

Goldstar mothers occupied a position in the second division of the parade. Special automobiles were provided for them by the local posts of the American Legion and they followed the comrades of their boys.

The parade, featured the celebration with caucers, guardsmen, veterans, state and city officials and civic organization in line. It was a brilliant procession that wended its way from Capitol Square westward for a distance of two miles, past the rugged monuments of Lee and Davis and Jackson.

Thousands of people lined the route of march and, with heads bared to the sunlight of a perfect day, saluted the legions of Virginia's finest. Monument Street was packed with men, women and children and the downtown streets were jammed with moving humanity.

At eleven o'clock this morning a simple religious service was conducted in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with the congregations of other churches participating. The Rt. Rev. William Cabell Brown, Bishop of Virginia, delivered an address in which he paid beautiful tribute to the men who died in defense of human ideals. A feature of the service was the singing of Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional," while the veterans of "Our Far-flung battle line tramped once more to the beat of the drum."

GOVERNOR TRINKLE PAYS HONOR TO WOODROW WILSON

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 11.—Virginia today paid honor to her distinguished son, former President Wilson, when Governor Trinkle sent to him by his little daughter, Helen Sue, aged six, a large basket of choice flowers with a letter expressing the affection in which the people of Virginia held the former commander-in-chief of the army and navy of America. Little Miss Trinkle was accompanied by her mother, and will join with others in the visit to the home of President Wilson today. The following letter was sent with the flowers:

"To His Excellency, Woodrow Wilson, former president of the United States of America:

"On this occasion one the anniversary of what is known as Armistice Day, it seems particularly fitting that the leaders and representatives of the people, and that the populace as well, should make a pilgrimage to the shrine of your home, there to do homage to our great war president.

"Not yet has the thunder of battle entirely subsided, nation being still arrayed against nation and kingdom against kingdom. Not yet have the war drums ceased their throbbings, nor the battleflags furled; the whole earth remaining still in a state of fevered agitation, following the mighty conflict of the peoples.

"The old order changeth, giving place to the new, and God reveals himself in many ways. Nor is it too much to express the conviction that, out of the cataclysm of battle which men swept Europe like a tornado of death; out of that era of destruction which men term the World War; out of that lashed period of devastating and unreasoning war which, like a bloody scourge, lashed the western nations into a frenzy, Jehovah raised up over the blackness of chaos one silver star of hope—whom men call Woodrow Wilson.

"And though clouds of factional political strife, like low-hanging vapors, may, for a brief period of time, seem to obscure the rays of that planet, yet we are taught that prejudice is ephemeral, while we know that the stars burn forever.

"Having fought the good fight, having upheld the faith, it is well that the Crusader of Truth, the Leader and the Friends of the People, should withdraw for a time from the conflict. Blinded by party jealousies, circumscribed by a narrowness of vision born of small party ambition, men called to guide the nation in this era of transition, stumble like children wandering in the dark.

"It is comforting to the soul of man to realize that in the midst of this tumult, that guiding star which God himself set with His own hands in the firmament of fate, still gleams in Washington. Time will vindicate your memory and your fame, like truth, will be eternal.

"Among other States, Virginia, your home, desires to be foremost in presenting its tribute. Its people love you, their leaders honor you.

"And so, on this occasion, I, as Governor of Virginia, send to you my little daughter, Helen Sue, laden with flowers from this the Commonwealth of your nativity. Accept, on behalf of the people of Virginia, this fragrant

FINDS GIRLS

MRS. HARRY LOUIS HAAS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Harry Louis Haas, wealthy society woman, was tired of the round of social life between her country home at Douglas Manor, Long Island, and her town house at 124 W. 55th street.

She could no longer drive an ambulance in France, for the war was over.

And nothing seemed to offer fresh thrills until she decided to become a police-woman.

That was four years ago. Today she's one of the most valuable aids to the missing persons bureau of the New York police department.

Though she serves without compensation, she has the ranking of a special investigator with all the privileges of a regular detective.

She wears a star—and sometimes she carries a "blackjack" and automatic pistol.

"I'm trying to put the human element into police work in New York," says Mrs. Haas. "The work I like best is that connected with runaway girls and there's enough of that to keep me busy."

"With the cooperation of the missing persons bureau I'm trying to treat these girls kindly and with consideration. I'm trying to show them their mistake instead of treating them as criminals. And I think I've accomplished some real reforms."

Mrs. Haas is one of our best workers," says Captain John H. Ayres, chief of the bureau. "She and her car are always subject to our call at all hours of the day or night."

tribute of affection. The love of a child, the honor of the people of a great and sovereign State, the fragrance and purity of flowers—such are the symbols with which we today seal our allegiance to the greatest man the modern world has known."

Mrs. Trinkle and her little daughter left here early this morning for Washington, and it is possible that they will be the guests of President and Mrs. Wilson until Sunday afternoon, when they will return to Richmond.

The Mahdi is, to Mohammedans, the expected messenger of Allah to complete Mohammed's work by converting the world to his religion or exterminating unbelievers, and equitably to divide all mundane goods.

HAYARD FINALLY WINS BOTH TERMS

WILMINGTON, Del. Nov. 11.—The official canvass of the vote cast in Delaware last Tuesday shows that Thomas E. Bayard, Democrat, was elected over Senator T. Coleman Dupont, Republican for both the short and long terms in the Senate.

The final count showed that Bayard won the short term by the narrow margin of 40 votes and the long term by a plurality of 555 votes.

The full figures are as follows: Short term Bayard 35,954, Dupont 36,004. Long term Bayard 37,304, Dupont 36,076.

BELGIUM'S UNKNOWN SOLDIER

BRUSSELS, Nov. 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Belgium's Unknown Soldier, was entombed today with impressive ceremony. The body was selected by a blind veteran from five unidentified war dead. King Albert and Crown Prince Leopold were at the station when the funeral train arrived from Bruges and stood at rigid salute as the flag covered coffin was brought out. Ten disabled soldiers, five of whom had lost their right arms and the others their left, placed the casket upon a gun carriage, and the procession started for Parliament Square in impressive silence.

NEGRO BOY SLAYS MAN

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—Berens, 37 years old, shipping clerk at the L. Weinberg Bakery, this city, was killed today by a fourteen-year-old negro boy handily, who with a sixteen-year-old negro companion, entered the bakery and covered six men employees and customers with revolvers. Berens was shot when he tried to seize the boys. After the shooting the robbers fled away from the store without having obtained any money.

Ants had developed their present highly organized society long before our ape-like ancestors had settled down into communities.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S.S.S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

The shame of a blemished face!

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C.'s of medical science. Red-cells mean clear-pure rich blood. They mean clear ruddy, healthy-looking skin. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from impurities from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. LONDON, Nov. 11.—King George has granted permission for the use of part of the spacious gardens of Buckingham Palace as a wild bird sanctuary.

The committee recently appointed by Lord Crawford to consider the establishment of bird sanctuaries in the royal parks suggested among other places the ground of Buckingham Palace and, with the king's permission, sites are already established there for bird retreats.

Other recommendations include secluded spots at Hyde Park, Kensington Gardens, St. James Park, Regent's Park and Richmond Park and it is hoped by establishing such retreats to induce the return of various species of birds to London. One of the problems in connection with such retreats is the menace of cats and squirrels, and while measures will be taken to exterminate the squirrels, nearby residents will be expected to assist by keeping their cats at home.

TWO AUTO SHOWS
If the attendance at London's two simultaneous automobile exhibitions may be taken as an indication, there isn't much to worry about in the trade outlook. Officials state that the exhibitions are the biggest on record with the possible exception of that immediately after the war when the average daily attendance approximated 55,000. At the two exhibitions, one at Olympia and the other at White City there are 550 exhibitors of automobiles and accessories. Constant streams of well groomed prospective buyers inspect the various latest types of cars which are attended by alert salesmen. One of the exhibition is reported to have sold four thousand cars in one day.

Although there are still some limousine deluxe and landaulets, the ever increasing tendency of the manufacturers is toward smaller and lower horsepower cars. The average of vehicles per horsepower a year and also by the fact smaller cars consume much less gasoline. Most of the newest makes shown are from 10 to 12 horsepower and are capable of making 35 to 40 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

There has been a great effort on the part of the designers to make up in the attractiveness of lines what the cars lack in size, and the prices of small runabouts are still rather high, but it is estimated that they would soon make up an extra cost in the saving on gas and the tax.

The general tendency is toward two-passenger cars, with extra collapsible "mother-in-law" seats in the rear. Exhibitors from Germany and Austria were excluded.

CAMPAIGN ENGROSSING
While most of the towns and districts in the British Isles are in the throes of electioneering and the various candidates on the stump there is one spot in the kingdom where the ordinary routine of life is more important than electioneering. A QUEER CANDIDATE
Councillor A. Stark, labor candidate in the coming elections for East Hull, is in an unique position as he is drawing unemployment doles. Speaking at a meeting of the voters Stark declared: "I am the only prospective member of Parliament so far as I know who is on the poor. You may think it humorous, but let me tell you it's no laughing matter."

Stark is a boilermaker, who has been out of work for nearly two years owing to strikes and other causes.

BOARDERS WANTED
Eastern Railway, of which he was general manager, Sir Henry was given a silver cigar box as a mark of appreciation for his services to the game in Essex. The spokesman at the dinner said that Sir Henry found Essex golf in a condition akin to that of an elderly man's liver, but that in substitution by him of the Thornton cup for competition he had prescribed a tonic which had performed the wonders for youth ascribed to the monkey glands.

Sir Henry in replying said golf was the most beneficial agent that had been introduced to mankind since Christianity, at least to the man of 50 who had retired and wanted to bring too much port.

The dinner was, informed by Sir Henry that he intended to maintain the Thornton cup.

HOBOKING EXPLAINS SECRET CODE

JEFF DAVIS, "HOBOKING," AND HOBOSIGNS.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12.—Why is it that a family not adverse to giving food to a man asking it is visited frequently by such men, while the house next door, where there is antipathy to hoboes, is never visited?

To such men as seek "handouts," the reason is written in blazing letters. But the average persons, however, will not see the signs—which may be set down on his own gatepost.

The sign language of the hoboes is the means by which those who have profited or suffered in a community leave advice for those of the wandering brotherhood who follow. Water tanks, railway bridges, fences and the like bear the tidings—and wise is the wanderer who heeds them.

Jeff Davis, "king of hoboes," and international president of the "Hoboes of America," compiled the set of signs surrounding his picture. Reading from top to bottom, the left column sign mean:

- 1.—Hostile town—bulls' (police) eyes open.
- 2.—Slow burg—bulls' asleep.
- 3.—Dry town—lipped in water.
- 4.—Many blind pigs—dinner up.
- 5.—Many handouts—sign near station.
- 6.—Good for handout—sign on gate or door.
- 7.—"Beware Montana"—a warning of the 11 months 29-day sentences imposed there.

- 8.—Dog sign—four legs and tail.
- 9.—Bum Jane—call cops. hates hoboes.
- 10.—Woodpile—meal if you chop.
- 11.—Give money here—circles denote note coins.
- 12.—Railroad ducat—these folks give money for fare.
- 13.—Top to bottom, the signs in the right-hand column mean:
- 1.—Many ties—warning on being ditched with long stretch between stations.
- 2.—Jail—go there for bed.
- 3.—Thirty days—if pinched.
- 4.—Cheap town—cheap wages, poor conditions, and so on.
- 5.—Stake—good town to work in to get a stake.
- 6.—Good bulls—treat hoboes right.
- 7.—Plot—boat, indicating judge gives hoboes "floaters."
- 8.—Ten days here.
- 9.—Six months here.
- 10.—Hostile cops—police bracelets or "jewelry."
- 11.—Good restaurant—good feed for dish washing.
- 12.—Mission—good for feed and "dop."
- 13.—Angel at mission—too sympathetic welfare workers.
- 14.—Mother with boy a hobo—always good for food and clothes; seeks tidings of son.

HARD LABOR FOR THE SILKWORMS

The jelly like silkworms must have been taking life seriously the last year to have produced all the shining fabrics one sees in the new fashions. Not that a silkworm would recognize the handwork (or should it be footwork) in the crinkled metallic borders, matelasses and broadened silk velvets.

The city is still "They come for Paisley." Department heads are rapidly growing gray trying to keep enough Paisley stock in stock. The pattern is everywhere. It is on her back, on her neck, on her sleeves, on her belt, on her shoes, on her stockings, on her gloves, on her handkerchiefs, on her pocket squares, on her napkins, on her tablecloths, on her bedspreads, on her curtains, on her wallpaper, on her furniture, on her car, on her house, on her life.

From St. Louis (Post Dispatch).
What may be called the "Siamese Twins" of the tree world is found on the island of Sumatra, in the Malay Archipelago. It is a tree which grows in a peculiar manner, the trunk of one tree growing around the trunk of another, and the two trees growing together until they are so completely united that they appear to be a single tree. The tree is about 100 feet high and is covered with a thick layer of bark. The trunk of one tree is about 10 inches in diameter and the trunk of the other is about 12 inches in diameter. The two trunks are so completely united that they appear to be a single tree. The tree is covered with a thick layer of bark and is covered with a thick layer of leaves. The tree is covered with a thick layer of bark and is covered with a thick layer of leaves.

A PUZZLE A DAY

If it is not is and is not is what is it is not is and what is it is not is?

The above sentence has had all punctuation marks removed. Can you replace them so that the sentence takes on a sensible meaning?

Yesterday's answer:

E V I L

Miss Robertson Angry, Would Quit Muskogee

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 12.—Miss Alice Robertson, and only woman in Congress, who was defeated for reelection Tuesday by the man she unseated in the Republican contest of 1922, declared today that she had "been insulted by the citizenship of the city for which I long have fought and made sacrifices," and that when she leaves Congress next March she will come back home to Muskogee just to get her summer clothes.

Miss Robertson said that she felt that she had not been treated fairly by the citizens of her home town, who rolled up a heavy majority against her Tuesday. "It was purely a business proposition of sending me back to Congress," she said. "I didn't want to run two years ago and it was only after much urging that I consented, but now I'm through."

"For thirty-seven years I've lived in Muskogee, and was born within ten miles of the city, and I have always fought for the good of Muskogee just as I did while I was in Congress. If I had it to do over again, I'd do the same things I have done in Congress and vote just exactly as I did."

"I owe Muskogee nothing."

Sawolka farm, which Miss Robertson has owned since 1908, will probably be placed on the market soon, she said. "It was reported that she had a place waiting for her in the woman's bureau of the Department of Labor in Washington."

"Would you take it if it were offered you?" she was asked.

"I've got to do something, haven't I, and I haven't a cent after I leave Congress," she answered.
